To our U High, our dear old high,

To our U-High, our dear old high,
To thee we'll 'ere be true;
Our hearts and hands in fellowship,
We pledge them all to you.
Thy name revered both near and far,
Our hopes in years to come
Thy memory shall be our star,
When U-High days are done.

The Editorial Staff of the 1951 Bisbila, dedicates this yearbook to University High School.

Faculty

Dr. Minard Stout is serving his fourth year as principal of U-High. In this period of time he has accomplished a great deal as director of the school. His fondest hope has finally become realized, and it is a familiar sight to see him carrying the blue prints of what will eventually be the new University High School building.

Good luck to you, Tom
F. P. Abel

Frederick P. Abel, a new addition to the administration is assistant principal. His job is the students: their activities and discipline. He is in charge of passes, excuses and scheduling of classes, acts as a liaison with the University for arranging demonstration classes and advises the Senate, their student government.

William Carlson has helped supply answers to U-Hi boys' personal and educational problems. He is also advisor to National Honor Society.

Besides being Girls' Counselor, Miss Charlotte Farm is the faculty advisor to Pep Club, Acme, and the annual Mothers' Teas.

If you have cuts and bruises, the person to see is Marjorie Lewis. In the office are Edith Nyquist and Beth Midkiff; Ruth Wood tends to club treasuries and is Dr. Stout's secretary. Ruth Mann and Frank Klotz are U-High's faithful Custodians.

The science department, consisting of Dr. Clarence Boeck, Margaret Vollendorf, Benjamin Whitinger and Merton Johnson, take time out from juggling test tubes to confer with the mathematical wizards, Dr. Donavan Johnson, Theodore Kellog, Lyle Eakin and Nick Lovdiieff.

Edith West (absent), Florence Dunning and George Knox discuss problems of the world, including their social studies classes, while consumers' problems concern Ramon Heimerl. Typing is taught by Marjorie Swanson, and Jean Smith is Librarian.

Members of the language arts faculty include teachers of English, Speech and Foreign Languages. They are Marion Kirkpatrick, Dwight Burton, Lilla Pappas, Arthur Ballet, David Cook, John Bens, Emma Birkmaier, Dorothy Michalson, Lee Stark, and William Schleppegrell (absent). Mr. Burton and Mr. Schleppegrell are also advisors to the senior class.

The unified arts department is divided into four sections which include home economics, industrial arts, music and art. Margaret Proshek, Carlisle Anderson, Ellsworth Erickson, C. Vernon Smith and Robert Aupperel compose the unified arts faculty. Eleanor Hanson and Oiva Pesonen are the boys' and girls' physical education teachers.

Our Hearts And Hands In Fellowship

Feature

The arrival of fall brought U-High's six little Ed Smiths back to classes. Ed Smith? He's the spirit of U-High and six, because of six different grades. They were all anxious to start the new school year off with a bang. To help them along the juniors sponsored the football homecoming dance and queen campaign. The older Eds were a little jealous of football captain, Kenny Mohn as they watched him kiss queen Diddie Odlund. Her attendants were the other candidates: Barbara Barrows, Connie Muehlbach, and Sue Smilow.

From one to another

Way back when

UN day, and Ed rode on the standard of the flag all the way to the assembly. That day he also had fun watching the various language initiations.

Ed got his first taste of the theater, when the second-year speech class gave "The Class Menagerie."

The beginning of winter came with skating parties and sleigh-rides. Several Eds froze their toes, but not so badly that they couldn't attend the annual Holiday Hop. With this dance, came the end of fall quarter.

"I do swear to . . ."

Praying for rain

Winter, supposedly the dead time of the year, brought more exciting times. Ed showed up at every basketball game, to cheer the team on. To celebrate the basketball homecoming, Ed sat on Kenny Mohn's shoulder as he crowned Mary Ann Davison queen, and announced her attendants, Sherry Evans and Kalitsa Mavroulis.

February found Ed at the Mardi Gras unsuccessfully trying to guess the Mystery Lady. He found out later she was Carole Bouthilet. Music for this party was by "Two B's and a Bop," the U-High jazz trio.

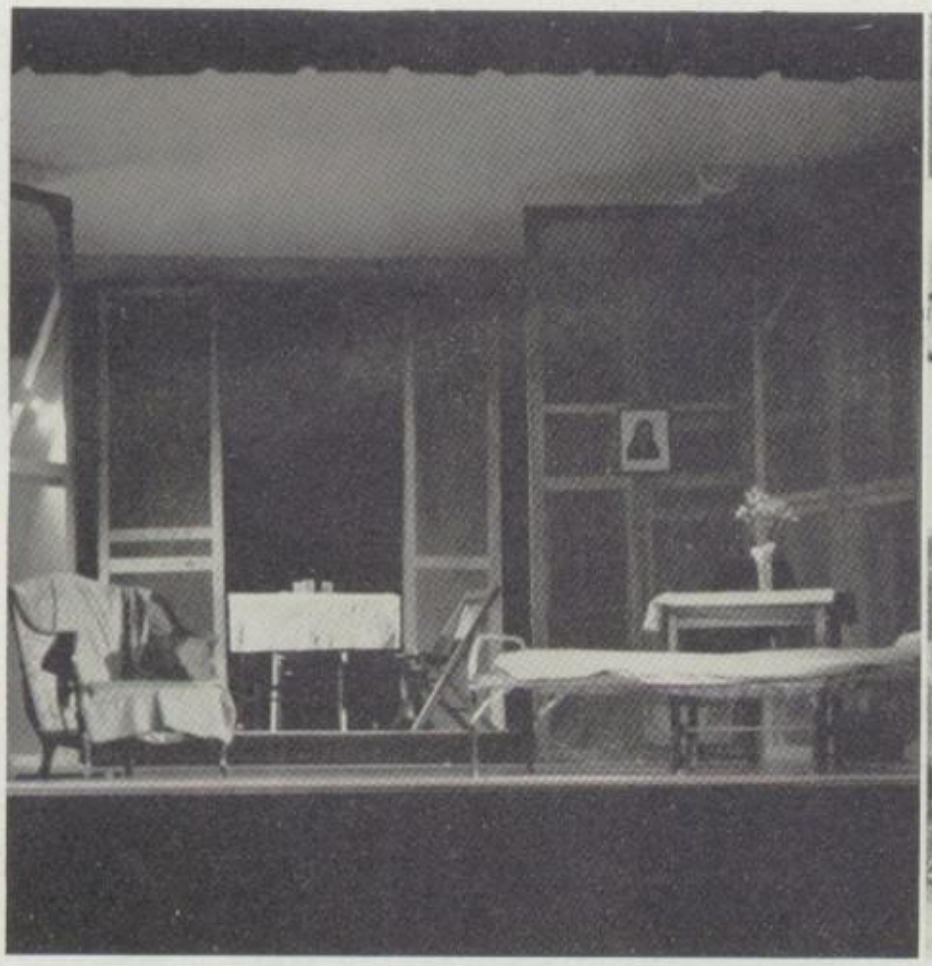
"and the score is . . ."



To add some fun to his education, Ed went to see "Charley's Aunt." He sat in the back row of 210 and laughed himself sick and he almost missed Sixth Hour class. He had to stay up late too, with John McHardy and John Harris as they worked hard developing pictures for the forthcoming yearbook, the Bisbila. March 21 was the first day of spring and it was nearly vacation. Ed was happy as he cleaned out his locker, following instructions, but one look at the seventy-four inches of snow and he groaned "This is RIDICULOUS!"

"... And in conclusion ..."

"I only fell once!"

Early one morning ...

Ehhh ...

Spring vacation may have been a rest for five of the Ed Smiths, but the Ed of '51 was busily engaged in senior class play rehearsal which he watched from a vantage point under Mr. Ballet's chin. When the "School for Scandal" was given in April, Ed was very proud. Other rehearsals, this time for "H.M.S. Pinafore," were climaxed at a performance for the Unified Arts Festival. Edress (Ed's female counterpart) supervised the Mother-Daughter Banquet, and reported that everything went as scheduled.

The big night finally arrived and Ed, dressed in white tie and tails spirited into the Main Ballroom of Coffman Union to watch the J. S. He saw Harriet Wolkoff, junior class president, lead the grand march.

The senior assembly and the senior picnic started the final rush of activities for the Ed Smith of '51.

The evening of June 12 was the saddest and most exciting in Ed's six years. As the last senior received his diploma, Ed choked back a tear and went to join the Ed Smith alumni club.

SENATE

Senate, U-High's student governing body, is composed of a senator elected from each homeroom, and four officers. Guiding the Senate this year were president Kenny Mohn, vice-president Barbara Barrows, secretary Mary Ann Davison, and treasurer Ed Brown.

Besides their advisor, Mr. Fred Abel, the Senate was aided by four standing committees. These committees took care of problems and suggested the rules related to their fields.

Standing are: Doug Whiting, Karen Blomholm, Ed Brown, and Mr. Able. Sitting: Connie Muehlbach, Mary Ann Davison, secretary; Kenny Mohn, president; and Barbara Barrows, treasurer.

FEDERATION OF LANGUAGES

The Federation of Languages, U-High's United Nations, is composed of the officers of the four language clubs.

Led by Chairman Lilyan Odland and secretary Barbara Monson, the Federation sponsored the annual Christmas Dance and the Mardi Gras.

Another big event this year was the observance of U. N. day. Highlights of the celebration were language club initiations and an assembly.

The Federation was advised by the four language teachers, Miss Birkmaier, Mrs. Michalson, Mr. Schleppegrell and Mr. Stark.

Looking at the U.N. Flag are Language Club presidents, Federation officers and advisors; Schleppergrell, Birkmaier, Michalson, and Stark.

Knock on the door of the Biz Room any time and you will probably find one of the staff members rushing to meet a deadline. With the help of their advisor, Mr. Ellsworth Erickson, they spend much of their spare time dashing off copy and inventing new and unusual layouts to delight the reader.

This year an Editorial Board was founded to govern Bisbila activities, composed of the Editors-in-Chief, Art, Copy, and Picture Editors.

The members of the journalism class edited and published "The Campus Breeze," the school paper that appeared in your lockers monthly.

This winter all would-be editors and reporters attended a class taught by the staff and their advisor, Mr. Ramon Heimerl, where they learned how to make layouts and present news accurately. A test which completed the course revealed the best candidates from which the 1951-52 staff was chosen.

Acme is the honorary service organization for girls. The members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and service to the school. This year Acme sponsored the Red Cross style show, thanksgiving baskets, and the mothers teas. The annual mothers-daughters banquet that was held in Coffman Memorial Union was also sponsored by Acme. This year's advisor was Miss Charlotte Farm.

Quill and Scroll is a National Honorary society for students who have done outstanding work in the field of Journalism.

This year, eleven members were selected. Seven were chosen from the Campus Breeze, and four from the Bisbila. Those chosen from the Breeze were selected on the basis of outstanding work in composition, high literary standards, and knowledge of journalistic techniques. Those from the Bisbila were chosen on the basis of knowledge, cooperation and ability in putting out a yearbook.

THESPIANS

Thespian's big job this year was sponsoring the Senior Class play. Thespian-headed committees built sets, made costumes and were jack-of-all-trades whenever their services were needed. Thespian membership requirements for membership is a certain amount of service given in either the dramatic or technical fields of the theater. President this year was Susan Smilow; vice-president, Connie Muehlbach; secretary, Doug Whiting; treasurer, Tom Decker and program chairman was Kathy Coram.

A.V.O.C.

These initials stand for one of the busiest organizations around the school, Audio-Visual Operators Club. Members run the audio-visual aids for class work, school parties, games and at any other time when the aids are needed. Boys are elected to A.V.O.C. after intensive training and may take it as a class for credit.

The president of A.V.O.C. this year was Jack Hedman, secretary was John Wilson. A.V.O.C.'s advisor was Ben Whitinger.

O. Plauda, B. Garland, K. Mohn, B. Olsen, R. Franzen, T. Decker, B. Skovran, D. Garland, J. Lokensgard, J. Osterberg, F. Dryg, R. Alden, E. Brown, B. Kuhl, J. Wilson, B. Whitinger, J. Hedman.

Every boy who letters in any sport is entitled to join U. Club. This year U. Club sponsored the Fathers-Sons banquet, and during winter quarter they held their annual initiation which was climaxed by a hilarious assembly when the initiates were displayed. This year under the guidance of president Bud Fuhrman and coach Oiva Pesonen, the U. Club was one of U-High's most active and ambitious organizations.

With Sidney Steinbright as president, Pep Club began another full year. With its aim the establishing of more school spirit, Pep Club accepted a record number of new members. They sponsored a Sunlight during the fall quarter and during winter quarter took over the big job of the Basketball Dance. Pep Club sponsored the cheerleaders and worked closely with the faculty to plan pep fests and other all-school activities.

M. Trask, W. Romnes, K. Coram, B. Ewing, Miss Farm, J. Dotson, D. Peterson, N. Rodine, C. Cromer. S. Steinbright K. Mavroulis, L. Odland, P. Ketchum.

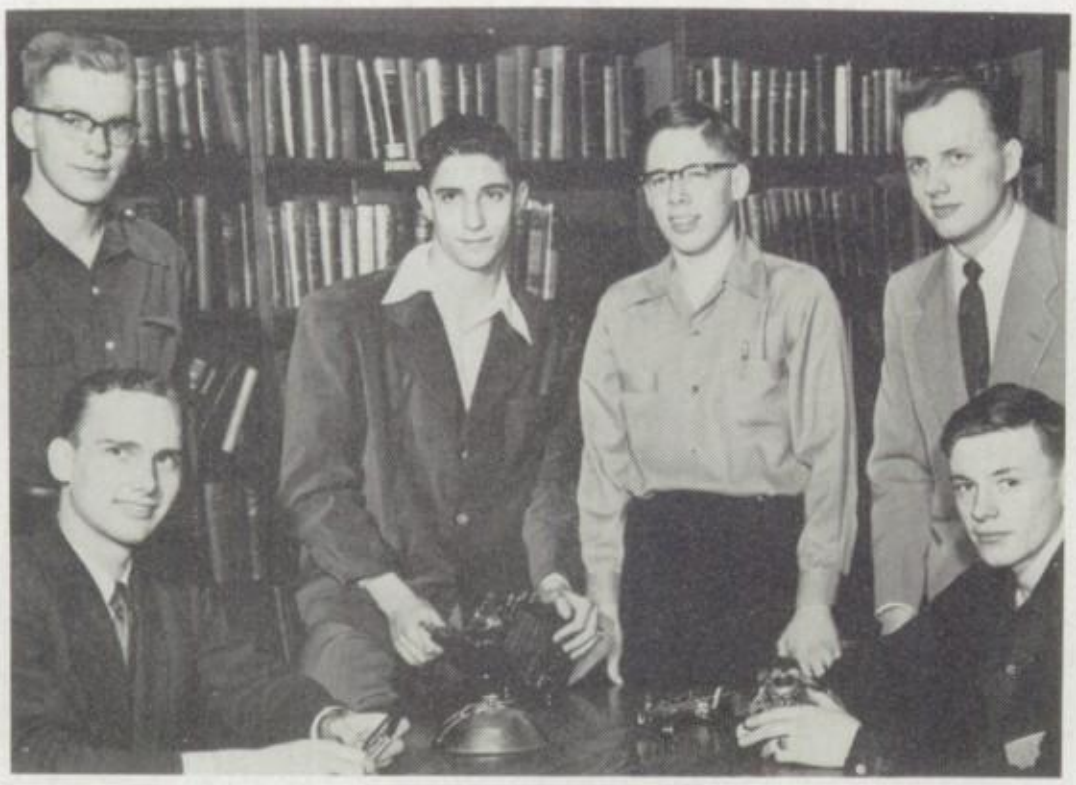

Photo Service is an organization which serves the school. Members of this club take pictures of various activities and submit copies to the Biz and Breeze for publication. Officers are Dave Berman, John Harris, and John McHardy.

F. H. A. provides a chance for domestic minded girls to learn more about the art of homemaking. One of their many projects this year was providing hot meals for the football team. President is Sharon Evans.

Pep Band's biggest job this year was to play at football and basketball games. They also helped out the cheerleaders at some of the pepfests. President this year was Malcolm Blumenthal. Bob Manton was secretary-treasurer and Mr. C. Vernon Smith was advisor.

Chess Club was again active this year. The purpose was to provide time for those students interested in chess. The club was open to both junior and senior high students. The advisor was Mr. Merton Johnson, and officers were: Amby Foley, president, Winfield Mott, secretary.

The Ski Club was new at U-High this year. It was formed by a group of students interested in skiing. Their advisor was Mr. Lee Stark, and the officers were: Eric Feigl, president; Jim McDaniels, vice-president; Douglas Whiting, secretary; and Bob Alden, treasurer.

The Stamp Club is a club of junior-high students advised by Mrs. Dunning. The club provides time for those interested in stamp collecting. Officers are Jack Foker, Steve Howard and Mayleanne Trask.

The 1950 Little Gophers suffered a losing season. It is certain, however, that the team doesn't feel the season a total loss, because of the valuable experience they gained.

This was the first year of actual play for most of the team with very few experienced players. These boys were responsible for much of the good work in games this year.

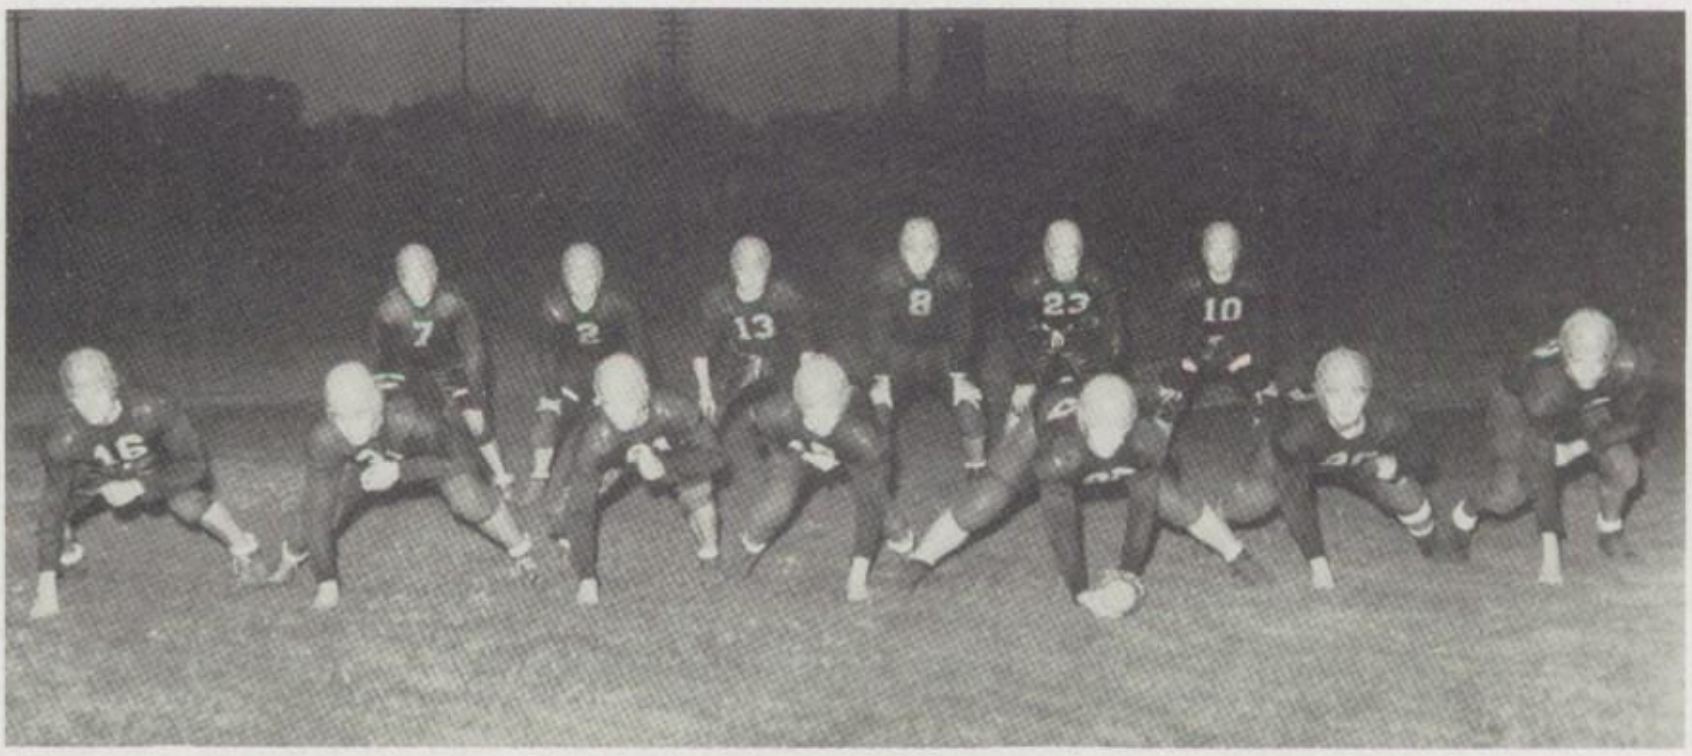
Next year U-High will be missing five seniors from the team, including captain Kenny Mohn. This loss will be felt next fall, but will be offset by the many boys who gained experience this year.

The first game of the season was at Chaska. The kickoff was made with the Little Gophers receiving the ball on their 30-yard line, and going for a 70-yard touchdown drive. After this, Chaska scored four times in the game, bringing the score to 26-6.

Next week the team met Bloomington at home. Their playing was much improved, but despite the team's efforts, they lost, 19-6.

A wet afternoon game with Norwood-Young America ended in the Little Gophers' defeat. The score was 0-12, after a scoreless first half.

At Deephaven the U-High gridders suffered the worst defeat of the season. Deepheaven scored six times, making the score 38-0.



Spirits soared before the Waconia game. Waconia scored twice, but the Gophers tied the score in the second half. Then the opposition made another touchdown and the heartbreaking game ended with U-High on the losing side, 19-12.

Our Homecoming game with Watertown found U-High unable to get within 35 yards of the goal during any part of the game. The game ended at 38-0.

Although the 1950-51 basketball team at U-High was much improved over last year, the cagers once again failed to break .500. Led by captain Kenny Mohn, who scored 125 points and was made all-conference, the Little Gophers won only five games and lost eleven. Aided by senior veterans Darrell Gisvold and Larry Mooney the team picked up speed and spirit. Although the team will lose three of its top men this year they will still be able to rely on starters Rog Pyle, Ed. Brown, and Craig Stout. With steady coaching and plenty of scrimmage outside of school it may be possible to have a good team next year.

Prospects for the team of '51-'52 seem good. Jim Archer is likely to be working for center position. Craig Stout with a lot of good work behind him shows promise. There will also be veterans such as Jon Lokensgaard, Ernie Gellhorn, John Wilson, Roger Pyle, and Eddy Brown. Many of these boys played "A" squad basketball this year, so they will be the mainstays of next year's team.

The 1950-1951 wrestling team did not do too well in the dual meets, winning only two matches. However, the two matches that they did win were decisive victories for the matmen, St. Paul Central and Edina being the losers. Captain Bill Hunt was U-High's best individual wrestler, as he placed second in the regionals, and fourth in the state. Bill was this year's captain. Don Meyers and Jim Ellis also stood out by winning most of their matches. Some of the other wrestlers were Ken Baker, Warren Ellis, Don Heintzman, Owen Plauda and Jerry Line. Graduation will only claim Jerry Line, Bud Fuhrman, and Jim McDaniel, so next year's team can look forward to a very successful season.

Kalton, J. Lund, F. Davis, J. Harris, J. Saliterman, L. Kane, B. Stanley, E. Carlson, B. Green, J. Wolf, T. Baer, D. Franzen. Absent: P. Curtis, T. Hagen.

The swimming team under careful guidance swam against the best teams in the state. The record of four losses and two wins cannot start to show the determination and spirit that the mermen displayed. After dropping the first four meets to Minneapolis Central, West, Roosevelt, and St. Paul Central, the little gopher mermen splashed back to victory in their last two meets against St. Paul Murray and Humboldt. With the help of returning swimmers Dick Franzen, Leonard Kane and Eugene Carlson, the little gophers may hope for a more successful season next year. John Harris, Terry Hagen, Paul Curtis and John Wolf contributed much to the teams' experiences and sportsmanship. Dick Franzen was this year's captain.

JUNIOR CLASS

The football homecoming was the first big project of the juniors. Irwin Bloom led them as chairman of this successful affair. This year the queen received a locket as a remembrance.

Presiding as officers this year were: Harriet Wolkoff, as president; Irwin Bloom, vice president; Marilyne Mears, secretary; and Jack Wilson, treasurer. They worked hard, and with the cooperation of the junior class and their home room advisors, Dr. Boeck, Mrs. Michalson and Mr. Knox, they achieved the goal they were reaching for. This was learning to organize, plan, and carry out their projects.

Gail Muehlbach, Hertha Schulze, and Jack Wilson did a fine job representing their class in Senate. Their alternates were Fred Dryg, Bob Garland and Leonard Kane.

The theme of their Mothers' Tea this year was "Key to My Heart." This was because it was held on Valentines Day. Jean Bohne headed the very successful tea.

Last but not least was the J.S. Irwin Bloom headed this very formal affair which was held in the Main Ballroom of Coffman Memorial Union.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomores begain their senior high life in the traditional sophomore manner. Mr. Bens, Mr. Kellogg, and Mr. Stark provided their all-masculine guidance as the tenth grade advisors.

The main project of the sophomores this year was to promote school spirit within the class. This objective was accomplished through parties and other projects. One of the parties was a hayride held during fall quarter. Two others were held during the winter: a roller-skating party at Ordemann's, and a toboggan party at the White Bear Yacht Club.

First row: B. McCarthy, M. Ewing, J. Steinberg, K. Weis, S. Greene, V. Pink, B. Johnson, K. Mavroulis. Second row: W. Johnston, J. Jaenisch, C. Sheehy, K. Klinkerfues, B. Nimmer, G. They also held the annual Senior Farewell Dance during spring quarter.

Leading the class were: Jim Awada, president; Don Bryant, vice-president; Kallitsa Mavroulis, secretary; and Eugene Carlson, treasurer.

Carrying their homerooms' opinions to Senate were: Rolf Engel, Mary Ewing, and Kay Klinkerfues with their alternates Don Bryant, Eugene Carlson, and Don Garland.

The Mothers' Tea was headed this year by Judy Steinberg. The theme was "St. Patrick's Day."

Ending their junior high years with a bang, the freshman class proved themselves energetic and enthusiastic workers.

They began the year by electing a nine-member council instead of the usual officers. The able chairman was Richard Jensen, and the council's members were Barbara Barton, Fletcher Davis, Diane Dupere, James Edland, Wally Hunt, Steve Nieman, Diane Sterner, and Toby White. The board decided on a program of homeroom activities which included social, folk and square dancing, games, sports, and hobbies. Advising the class were Miss Pappas, Mr. Eakins and Mr. Merton Johnson.

The ninth grade won its share of honors, too, for it took the prize in the annual Acme sponsored Thanksgiving basket contest.

In April the Freshman Mothers' Tea was held with Sonja Thorshov as general chairman.

Early in fall quarter, the eighth grade played host to the new seventh graders at a party in Shevlin Hall.

Around this time, an election of officers was held. Lory Palmer was elected president, Sheldon Mills, vice-president; Jack Loker, secretary; and Jim Russeth, treasurer.

During winter quarter one section of the eighth grade gave a Valentine Dance for the other.

Spring quarter brought the Mothers' Tea, with Betsy Berman as the eighth grade co-chairman.

The senators were Steve Howard and Joey Lund. Their alternates were Marilynne Miller and Tom Stewart.

Being isolated at T.S.M.B. didn't stop the Seventh Graders from being well represented at all school functions.

At Christmas time they gave a successful party for the eighth grade, and during winter quarter they held a sleighride.

The seventh grade officers were: president, Richard Atherton; vice-president, Marjorie Chandler; secretary-treasurer, Marilyn Chandler.

Senators were Ray Evans and Jim Johnson. Ronell Robeson was the seventh grade co-chairman of their well-planned Mother's Tea.

M. Chandler, R. Atherton, M. Chandler, officers; Lovdjieff, Kirkpatrick, advisors.
